Deal Pipeline — Training Guide

SAM Manages the board daily

ROBERT Receives brief, posts content

The machine handles the middle. This guide explains exactly who does what.

1. The Big Picture — How This Works

Unaligned runs a 3-layer system. The machine does the heavy lifting. Sam manages the deals. Robert posts the content.

THE MACHINE runs every night automatically. It reads all incoming emails, creates cards for new leads, drafts reply emails, and moves deals forward. It does NOT send anything without approval.

SAM works the board each morning. He reviews what the machine drafted, approves emails, sends rates to interested leads, and manages negotiations until a deal is closed and invoiced.

ROBERT has one job in this pipeline: post the content. When a deal is ready to go live, Robert receives a PDF brief with everything he needs — the client, the platform, the approved content, the date. He reads it, posts it, done.

★ KEY POINT: We are training the machine to take over more steps every month. The goal: Sam approves, Robert posts. Everything else is automated.

2. The Deal Stages — Left to Right

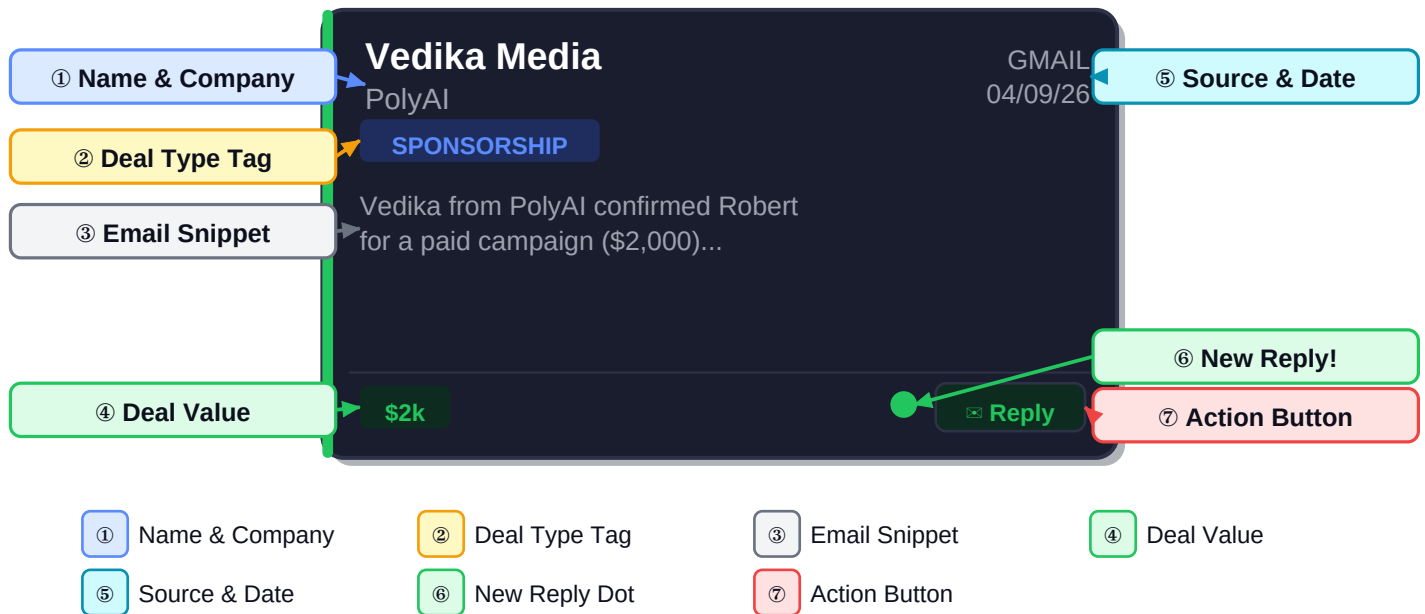

Every deal starts on the left and moves right. The machine and Sam push cards forward. Robert only appears at the very end.

NEW	Machine found a new lead. Nobody has reviewed it yet.
FIRST TOUCH	We replied once. Robert sent a warm intro, looped in Sam.
ENGAGED	Active conversation. Sam is managing back and forth.
RATES SENT	Sam sent the pricing package. Waiting for their response.
NEGOTIATING	They responded to rates. Sam is closing the deal.
INVOICE SENT	Deal agreed. Invoice sent. Waiting on payment.
DONE	Robert posted. Content is live. Complete.
PAID OUT	Payment received. Closed.
DEAD LEADS	Ghosted or said no. Removed from active pipeline.

■ Robert only touches deals at DONE — and only after receiving his PDF brief. Everything before that is Sam and the machine.

3. Picture Guide — What Is On a Card?

Sam works with these cards every day. Here is what every part means.

★ KEY POINT: Bottom-right corner is always the action. It tells Sam exactly what to do next.

4. What Each Part of the Card Means

Every card has the same layout. Here is each part explained:

① Name & Company	The contact person's name and their company.
② Deal Type Tag	What they want — Sponsorship, Interview, Intro, etc.
③ Email Snippet	The last thing said in the email thread. A quick preview.
⑤ Source & Date	Where the email came from and when it arrived.
④ Deal Value	How much money this deal is worth.
⑥ Green Dot	The lead replied and is waiting on us right now.
Red Glow	Card is marked HOT. Handle today.

5. Sam's Action Buttons

Sam sees one button per card. Read it, click it. The board tells Sam exactly what to do.

 REPLY	Means: Lead replied — waiting on Sam.	Do: Click to open. Write back or approve a machine draft.
$ RATES	Means: Lead is engaged. No pricing sent yet.	Do: Click. Rates email opens pre-filled. Sam reviews and sends.
 APPROVE SAM	Means: Machine wrote a reply overnight.	Do: Sam reads it. If good, click Approve. Sends automatically.
 INVOICE PAID	Means: Invoice is out. Waiting for payment.	Do: Click when payment arrives. Card moves to Paid Out.

★ KEY POINT: Green pulsing dot = a real person is waiting on a reply RIGHT NOW. Sam handles these first, every morning.

6. Sam's Daily Workflow — 5 Steps Every Morning

Sam does these 5 things every morning in order. Takes about 15 minutes.

STEP 1 ★	Find green pulsing dots	These leads replied. They are WAITING. Click Reply and respond first. Never skip this.
STEP 2	Find Approve Sam buttons	Machine drafted replies overnight. Sam reads each one. Looks good? Click Approve.
STEP 3	Check Engaged column	Anyone ready for pricing? Click $ Rates to send the rates email.
STEP 4	Check Negotiating	Any deals close to closing? Answer questions, confirm terms, push it forward.
STEP 5	Clean up dead leads	Silent for weeks? Hover the card, click X Dead. Keep the board clean.

★ KEY POINT: Sam's entire job is to keep cards moving right. The machine sets things up. Sam closes deals.

7. Robert's Step — The PDF Brief

Robert does not work the board. Robert has one job in this pipeline: post the content. When a deal is fully closed and ready to go live, Robert receives a PDF brief with everything he needs.

Who	The client's name, company, and what they paid for.
What	The exact content to post — caption, copy, hashtags, any links.
Where	Which platform — X (Twitter), LinkedIn, or both.
When	The agreed posting date and time.
Assets	Any images, videos, or files to attach to the post.
Notes	Any special instructions — tagging the client, links to include, etc.

Robert's process is simple:

1. Receive the PDF brief
2. Read it — everything is already written and approved
3. Post the content on the correct platform
4. Done — Sam marks the card complete

★ KEY POINT: The PDF brief exists so Robert spends zero time on admin. Every piece of information is already in front of him. His only focus is the quality of the post.

8. Opening a Card (Sam)

Click anywhere on a card to open it. Everything Sam needs is inside.

Full Email	The whole conversation — every message in order.
Contact Info	Name, email, phone, company on the left side.
Email Composer	Write and send replies directly from here. Never need Gmail.
Templates	Pre-written emails. Pick one and it fills in automatically.
AI Draft	Machine writes a reply for Sam to review and approve.

■ Sam never needs to open Gmail. Every email is read and sent from inside this board.

9. What the Machine Does Overnight

Every night, the machine runs automatically while Sam and Robert sleep.

Reads Gmail	Scans all incoming emails for new leads and replies.
Creates Cards	New leads become cards on the board automatically.
Writes Drafts	Drafts reply emails for Sam to review and approve.
Flags Replies	Puts a green dot on every card where someone replied.
Moves Cards	Advances cards through stages when the deal progresses.
Logs Activity	Records everything — every move, every draft, every send.

★ KEY POINT: The machine is getting smarter every month. The goal is for it to handle everything up to the moment Robert posts. Sam's role shrinks to approvals only.

10. Cheat Sheet — Who Does What

TEAL = Sam's actions. PURPLE = Robert's actions.

SAM	I see a green pulsing dot	→ Lead replied. Click ☒ Reply right now.
SAM	I see Approve Sam	→ Machine wrote a draft. Read it, click Approve.
SAM	I see $ Rates	→ No pricing sent yet. Click to send it.
SAM	I see Invoice Paid	→ Payment arrived. Click to record it.
SAM	Card is glowing red	→ Marked HOT. Deal with it today.
SAM	Card has no button	→ Waiting on them. Nothing to do.
SAM	Someone stopped replying	→ Hover card. Click X Dead. Move on.
ROBERT	I received a PDF brief	→ Read it. Post the content on the right platform. Done.
ROBERT	I have a question about the post	→ Call or message Sam. Sam handles everything else.
